MEBANE HIGH SCHOOL

... the buildings ... the people ... the events ... the routines which were an integral part of the formative years of our lives ...

...the moments we relived a thousand times ...

...the moments that can never be relived and can never be forgotten. . .

DEDICATION

Because of your willingness to serve, Mrs. Amick, our annual has become increasingly successful through the years. We, the Class of '59, fully appreciate the responsibility and complete cooperation that you have willingly given us as you gave it in past years. We shall long remember your heart-felt dedication to the school, to the students, and to the Furmacotto.

ADMINISTRATION

Through the years the guiding hand of our school has been our principal, Mr. E. M. Yoder. Since his arrival our school has grown and prospered. Students and faculty alike agree that he has never made a decision that was not in the basic interest of all concerned.

Mrs. Fannie Warren
Dietician

Mrs. Peggy Dudley
Secretary

Two of the most important members of the administrative staff are the office secretary and the dietician. All through the school year these ladies perform their respective tasks with expertness and diligence. The clockwork administration of our school is partially a result of the proficiency of these two.

From left to right: Elizabeth Albright, Judy McGee, Franklin Childress, James Wells, Pat Heath.

Each school day the rural students are transported to and from school by our bus drivers. That the students are on time for the first classes can be attributed to the efficiency and promptness of the five student drivers shown at left.

STUDIES

Ronnie Oakley and George Braxton, senior French students, display visual material which made class more interesting.

LANGUAGE

The Language Department is divided into three sections: English, French, and Latin. The purpose of this department is to develop the student's communication and reading skills through the study of language and literature.

Four years of English are required of every student, as well as two years preceding high school, for graduation. Two years of French and two years of Latin are available to college preparatory students.

Individual projects in French give the student an opportunity to learn the art and culture of France. Larry Sykes, a junior, demonstrates his model of the guillotine.

The sophomore Latin class is making derivative trees.

Reading is encouraged in all fields of study. These juniors, Bonnie Castle and Bill Henderson, use book reports of others as suggestions for further reading.

These seventh grade students are learning the principles of the Dewey Decimal System.

Sophomore English students - Billy Mace, Judy Vogler, Margaret Cole, and Nelson Clark - find that diagramming is a good method of studying the fundamentals of grammar.

The junior high school students found projects in science very interesting. June Walker displays her Diorama of Prehistoric Days.

SCIENCE

Our high school offers three major areas of study in the sciences. These include general science, biology, and chemistry. All freshmen boys are required to take general science. Biology plus a second science is necessary for graduation for both boys and girls. Background for these courses is acquired in the general science program of the junior high school.

Examining the external features of the grasshopper before their dissection of the specimen are Margaret Cole and Judy Vogler.

Three seniors, W.Y. Jobe, Jay Harris, and Allen Rhodes, work on their chemistry projects during after-school hours.

Demonstrating the uses of simple machines are four ninth graders, Jimmy Murray, Steve York, Ricky Dudley, and Johnny Self.

MATHEMATICS

The mathematics program in our school consists of instruction in algebra, plane geometry, physics, and general mathematics. It is designed to give the student a fundamental knowledge of mathematical principles. Two years of algebra and one year of plane geometry are open primarily to college preparatory students and are set up to provide a basis for further work in mathematics. The general mathematics courses provide skills that can be used in the world of work.

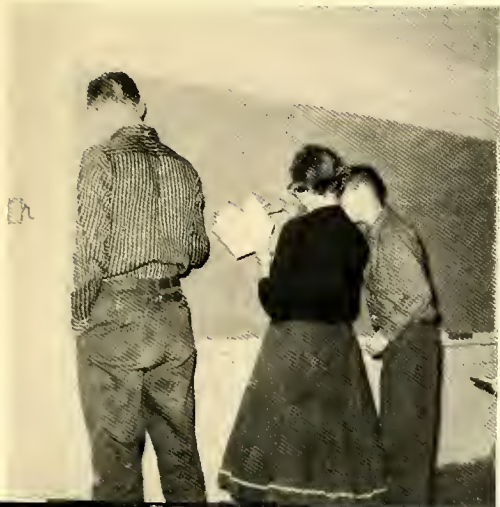

Individual instruction from Mr. Jack McFayden aids a student in solving his problem in the algebra class.

Billy Mebane and Kenny Weaver make use of their newly-acquired knowledge of geometry.

Three ninth grade mathematics students, Gene Allen, Barbara Edgerton, and Gary Holt, prepare board work for presentation to the class.

Students in physics, Larry Kirkpatrick, Jackie Cheek, and Kenneth Wilkinson, discuss the four-cycled engine and the aid of charts.

Bible, a new addition to our curriculum, requires many hours of note taking.

Jackie Christopher shows his world history project, a map of ancient Europe. On the project his printing is done in Latin.

Town clerk, Mr. Clyde Gardner, explains "town government" to a group of interested sociology students.

SOCIAL SCIENCE

The Social Science Department's objective is to provide the student with a general knowledge of the social sciences.

Courses in history, geography, civics, economics and sociology, and Bible are available. U.S. History is a requirement for graduation. Economics and sociology is a requisite for college preparatory students. A good background in these courses is an asset in any vocation.

Gail Smith quizzes two other geography students, Henry Heath and Marvin Collins.

Allen Rhodes, Redmond Oakley, and Kenneth Thomas discuss police activities with Chief D. W. Smith for a report to sociology class.

In-school television supplements regular classroom instruction in U. S. History.

Three eighth grade students, Jimmy Hill, Minnie Sue Fox, and Faye Smith, use the globe in their study of geography.

Frances Adams leads a discussion in civics class.

Betty Evans, Margaret Parker, Cathy Westbrook, and Doris Byrd, four bookkeeping students, work on their practice sets.

COMMERCIAL EDUCATION

Courses in the Commercial Department include instruction in shorthand, typing, and bookkeeping. It is the aim of this department to instill in students the basic skills and concepts that will aid them in the field of business. It also gives non-commercial students instruction in certain phases of business education that will aid them in other pursuits.

Learning to use business machines is part of the office practice course. Jannette Young and Florence Gravitte are operating the Rexograph machine.

Florence Gravitte, Dorothy Wynn, Jannette Young, and Mary Elizabeth Thornton, senior typing students, type materials for various members of the faculty, thus using their skill for useful purposes.

DIVERSIFIED OCCUPATIONS

The Department of Diversified Occupations permits students to come to school in the morning and work in the afternoon. These students acquire on-the-job experience and take courses in school which are connected with their chosen vocations.

An apprentice in cabinet making, Kenneth Thomas, is pictured on the job.

HOME ECONOMICS

Home Economics is offered to all girls, and at least one course is required of girls for graduation. The departments purpose is the teaching of the domestic arts.

Sewing, a new course to most ninth graders, is approached with enthusiasm by Judy James, Carol Terrell, Kay Kimbro, and Linda Richmond.

Mary Ann Riley, standing before her class, speaks on "Why I Am Going to High School."

Discussing United Nations problems for the "World Peace Study and Speaking Contest" are a few members of the speech class.

SPEECH

The speech class gives the student a knowledge of the fundamentals of public speaking through a program of study and practice. A few students participate in national and state contests such as the "Voice of Democracy" and "My True Security" programs. All students take part in classroom debates and speeches.

Ted Thompson speaks for the negative on the query: "Resolved That the United States Should Adopt the Essential Features of the British System of Education."

Preparing a bulletin board on personal care are these junior high health students -- Cleon Ashley, Dot Faucette, Linda Edwards, Mary Mercer, Jackie Sykes, and Tim Lynch.

Linda Aulbert, Anne Muse, and Linda Richmond are comparing pictorial information with that in the text.

HEALTH AND PHYSICAL EDUCATION

To build a greater understanding of the concepts of personal hygiene and to acquaint the students with the various forms of sports and exercise are the primary objectives of this department. Through a program of classroom instruction and physical activity these objectives are reached. The freshmen course is a requirement of both boys and girls for graduation. In the junior high school more attention is given to actual participation in sports than in the history and development.

One purpose of the physical education program is the development of character. Pictured are a group of students as they participate in activities designed to achieve this training.

Carol Collins accompanies members of the music class as they rehearse their radio program.

MUSIC

Music instruction in the Junior High School is given to all students. In the Senior High School, music is optional. The courses are intended to give a broader musical understanding and appreciation.

Miss Sarah Thompson's seventh grade assist Miss Dorothy Keck, our public school music teacher, in preparing the stage for the Christmas pageant.

Coaches Widenhouse, Walker, and Maynard.

COACHING STAFF

Under the expert coaching of Head Coach Archie Walker, with his very capable assistants, the Tigers won the Mid-State Conference Championship for the fourth consecutive year. Coach Walker's main assistant was the energetic figure of Coach Joe Widenhouse. Developing the future Tigers was the task of Coach Charles Maynard. These three men, combining skills and putting their efforts into molding the material at Mebane High, produced a great team, one whose record is proof of the the superb coaching staff behind them.

This year twelve Mebane footballers, pictured at left, played their last game. First Row: R. Nash, M. Terrell, G. Braxton, K. Wilkinson. Second Row: L. Kirkpatrick, A. Rhodes, W. Y. Jobe, S. White. Third Row: J. Lee, G. Dodson, R. Oakley, B. Evans.

End W. Y. Jobe crashes into the end zone after taking a 24 yard pass from Quarterback L. Sykes for Mebane's only score against a tough Haw River team.

"Tiger Bench," loaded with strong reserves, was a big asset to the team: the Tigers were plagued with injuries throughout the year.

An unidentified Tiger falls into the end zone for a score against Kernersville in the State Play-Offs.

Coach Walker's switch of Buster Evans from tackle to fullback proved to be a good move. Evans is shown here bulling his way into the end zone against Allen Jay.

Tommy Amick (20), fleet halfback, is shown here on a 40 yard scamper against Kernersville. Mebane defeated the Red Raiders 21-12.

Outstanding linebacker, Mickey Terrell (12), moves in for the kill in the decisive game with Haw River.

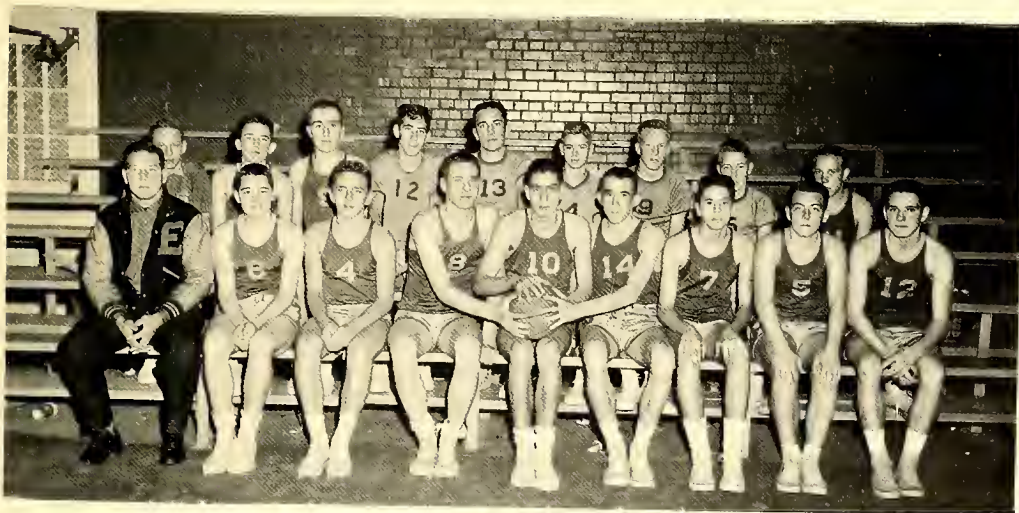

JUNIOR VARSITY FOOTBALL

JUNIOR VARSITY BASKETBALL

After losing its first three games, the J. V. basketball team, won its next seven. Several of these boys showed great potential and are expected to be seen next year in varsity play. Front Row, left to right: Mr. Charles Maynard, Coach; R. King, R. Poteat, R. Dudley, D. Terrell, T. Rembert, G. Walters, J. Craddock, S. York. Back Row: T. Jobe, H. Heath, J. Albright, H. Oakley, M. Collins, R. Haley, B. Harris, C. Spoon, J. Kerley.

BOYS' VARSITY BASKETBALL

Our coach faced a year of rebuilding due to the loss of six lettermen. After a slow start, his team posted a 10-10 record, gained much valuable experience, and displayed a true Mebane spirit. Front Row: Mr. George Shackelford, Coach; A. Rhodes, W. Y. Jobe, G. Dodson, R. Oakley, M. Terrell. Back Row: L. Keith, D. Carver, R. Williams, C. McAdams, N. Clark, T. Amick.

Upper right: Pictured are T. Amick and seniors- W.Y. Jobe, R. Oakley, G. Dodson, and A. Rhodes, our five starters.

High jumping R. Oakley makes a welcomed tip-in against Haw River.

The team's leading scorer, A. Rhodes, tallies another two points on a driving lay-up in the Haw River game.

A. Rhodes is shown here scrapping for a rebound against a much taller opponent from Eli Whitney.

A valuable sub., D. Carver, muscles his way up for a timely basket aiding us to defeat Pleasant Grove in the County Tournament.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

The girl's team posted an over-all 9-10 record, finishing in 6th place in the conference. This record is not indicative of their power. On given nights they were invincible, while they always posed a threat. They upset such first division teams as Altamahaw-Ossipee, Sylvan and Haw River. First Row: K. Kimbro, B. Sykes, F. Payne, P. Satterfield, Captain; N. Maultsby, S. Farthing. Second Row: L. B. James, L. James, L. Workman, J. Tripp, L. Correll. Third Row: J. McGee P. Rideout, M. A. Bean, L. Hawkins, E. Albright. Inset: Mr. George Shackelford, coach.

The play of our three guards was outstanding throughout the season. At far left, P. Satterfield, team-captain, blocks a Haw River shot. F. Payne apparently has her defensive assignment blocked out of the play.

Freshman L. Correll drives in for a lay-up against Eli Whitney.

The starting six did a great job carrying the load for the girls' team. Left to right: L. Correll, F; L. Workman, G; J. McGee, F; P. Satterfield, G; F. Payne, G; B. Sykes, F.

J. McGee, our leading scorer, is shown here scoring another two points on a turning lay-up shot. L. Correll was ready for the rebound, which never came.

V. Byrd drives to the corner as she is closely pursued by an Eli Whitney guard.

ORGANIZATIONS

STUDENT COUNCIL

Sponsoring various student activities--a Victory Dance, a talent show, the Community Chest Drive, a Homecoming Parade--these students served well our student body. They were the forum on discussions of school problems. The members are, left to right, B. Sykes, F. Ellington, E. Albright, L. B. James, T. Thompson, Sec.; W. Y. Jobe, Pres.; A. Whitfield, V. Pres.; J. Vogler, S. York, P. Edgerton, G. Walters, and R. Haley. Inset: Mrs. Merle Riggs, Sponsor.

JUNIOR HIGH STUDENT COUNCIL

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

These junior and senior students, selected on the basis of scholarship, character, leadership, and service, meet monthly to undertake activities to better the school. Pictured, left to right, are Mrs. Carolyn Clark, Sponsor; R. Oakley, Pres.; P. Satterfield, Sec.; L. Sykes, V.-Pres.; C. Fitch, J. Lee, M. Crawford, J. McGee, M. Millender, M. Webster, L. Ashe, T. Thompson, S. White, P. Edgerton, W. Y. Jobe, L. B. James, M. Wilson, J. Harris, and A. Whitfield.

MARSHALS

Each year the most outstanding juniors, chosen for academic achievement, serve as marshals. They are the ushers at all the commencement exercises. Front row: Patricia Edgerton, Marian Crawford, Melinda Webster, Chief; Linda Byrd James. Standing: Larry Sykes, Carolyn Fitch, Ann Whitfield, Judy McGee.

ANNUAL STAFF

Seated left to right: Neese, Allred, Hawkins, Heath.

We hope this book covers this year so completely that you will treasure it and occasionally use it to look back on the year 1958-1959.

GLEE CLUB

Under the leadership of Mr. Jack McFayden, the high school Glee Club participated in P. T. A. programs, in a radio program, and the commencement exercises. First row, left to right: Mr. Jack McFayden, B. Campbell, D. DeRosier, J. Johnson, S. Graves, F. Glosson, M. Parker, B. Webster, P. Lefler. Second row: E. Dodson, J. Tripp, A. Parnell, C. Collins, D. Jones, B. Lunsford. Third row: D. Caison, F. Childress, M. McLamb, P. Satterfield, F. Payne, D. Byrd, M. Terrell, T. Thompson. Fourth row: R. Richardson, K. Wilkerson, R. Langley, M. Perry, B. Gardner, R. Castle. Fifth row: K. Cates, B. Gattis, R. Williams, A. Rhodes, G. Dodson, B. Evans, D. Holt.

KEY CLUB

Each Wednesday these sophomore, junior, and senior boys met at their lunch hour to plan various projects that would benefit their school and community. The members are S. White, J. Lee, Pres.; Mr. Jack Self, Advisor; G. Workman, T. Thompson, R. Nash, L. Sykes, V.-Pres.; A. Rhodes, J. Harris, R. Oakley, Sec.; B. Poole, W. Y. Jobe, L. Keith, Treas.; G. Braxton, B. Foust, and L. Wood. Costumes similar to the one worn by George Braxton, pictured at right, were typical of the Key Club initiation.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA

To create interest in high school home economics courses, to educate girls in modern methods of homemaking, and to provide a common interest for high school girls are the aims of this organization. The officers are Patsy Crumpler, Pres.; Judy McGee, V.-Pres.; Faye Payne, Sec.; and Annette Young, Treas. Above, left: Future Homemakers count coat hangers for a money-making project. Above right: Preparing candied apples was the club's Fall Festival project. Not pictured: Mrs. Caroline McAdams, Sponsor.

4-H CLUB

MONOGRAM CLUB

These students, having contributed to the school's athletic program, were awarded with a letter and membership to this club, a non-functioning organization. First Row, left to right: R. Richardson, P. Satterfield, W. Jobe, M. McLamb, S. White, A. Rhodes; Second row, K. Wilkinson, M. Terrell, F. Payne, B. Sykes, L. Workman, J. McGee, K. Lanning, L. Keith, B. Lunsford; Third Row, C. Wilkinson, R. Oakley, R. Oakley, G. Dodson, L. Sykes, B. Castle, G. Workman, V. Byrd, L. James; Fourth Row, J. Copeland, R. Williams, B. Mebane, R. Nash, J. Lee, T. Thompson; Fifth Row, B. Evans, J. Tuck, G. Braxton, L. Kerley, T. Amick, L. Kirkpatrick.

HONOR WINNERS

The athletes pictured below received recognition for outstanding play. Those placing on the All Mid-State football team were Buster Evans, Sam White, Lawrence Keith, W. Y. Jobe and George Dodson. Buster Evans also won the Athlete-of-the-Month trophy, awarded monthly to the outstanding athlete in Alamance County. Named to All-County basketball teams were W. Y. Jobe, Pauline Satterfield, and Barbara Sykes.

CHEERLEADERS

These nine pretty girls cheered our athletic teams through another year. They performed in an outstanding way. Led by the hard-working Martha McLamb, they added color to our games and provided much vocal encouragement for the players. Our school, due to the efforts of these girls, was awarded a trophy for the best cheering section in Alamance County. Much of the success of our teams was due to them.

ACTIVITIES

George Workman and Vivian Byrd refreshed themselves at the coke stand.

Charlie McAdams and Geneva Sykes reigned over the Fall Festival.

The Country Store was a center of attention.

Emcee for the night was Redmond Oakley.

FALL FESTIVAL

A big fund-raising project for the school is the Fall Festival. This event, held in October, was considered a great success.

Gayle Smith enjoyed one of the major attractions, Margaret Millender's horse.

Below right: These clowns handled favors.

Diane Walker, Brooks Gardner, Judy Modlin, and Jimmy Murray dance a "smoothie."

Mrs. Tommy Sparks pantomimes "Annie Get Your Gun."

Demonstrating "rock - n - roll" are Mr. George Shackelford and Judy McGee.

The Christmas Story is brought to the dance by Mr. Jack McFayden.

VICTORY DANCE

Football victories and the yuletide season provide opportunities for a Victory and a Christmas dance, the annual favorites.

CHRISTMAS DANCE

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Riggs show how it used to be done.

Below Left: The traditional stag line watches intently.

Below Right: Martha McLamb presents a gift from the Teen-Age Club to Mrs. Jo Amick.

Homecoming Queen
Faye Payne

HOMECOMING

One of the highlights of the football season is the homecoming game. Before the game we had a parade in which the six candidates for queen were presented. Also in the parade were the cheerleaders, clowns, students, and the Mebane Fire Department. At half-time Faye Payne was crowned queen of Homecoming after being elected by the Student Body.

ASSEMBLIES

These six troupers display their talent.

Faye Payne gives a rendition of "There'll Be Some Changes Made."

Two hillbillies, Sue Sykes and Dot Garrison, pantomime.

W. Y. Jobe pays the three doctors, Jay Harris, Ronny Oakley, and Sam White, during a French skit.

Our cheerleaders led us in frequent pep rallies.

Bobby Poole and Kay Lanning perform a French dance.

VISITATION DAY

Marian Crawford prepares a bulletin board with which to greet parents.

Pauline Satterfield welcomes a guest speaker, Katherine Swanner of Graham, North Carolina.

Jimmy Lee, W. Y. Jobe, Allen Rhodes, and Patsy Crumpler converse in a French play.

SCIENCE FAIR

Ellen White exhibits her volcano replica.

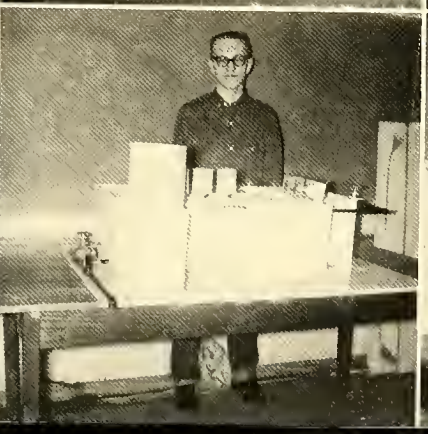

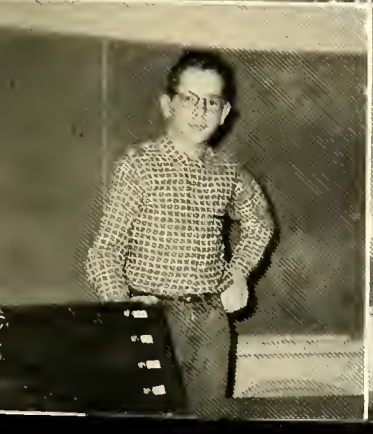

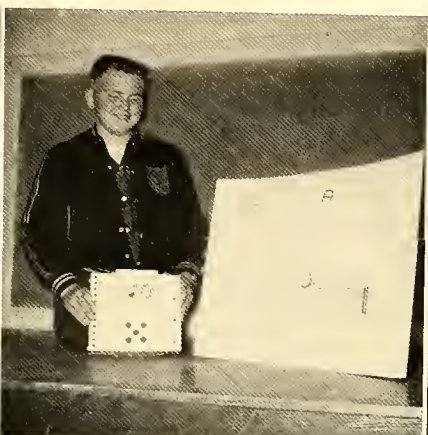

Demonstrating his electronic accordion is James Wells.

Linda Byrd James displays her project, the Refrigeration System.

Ronny Neese stands by his "Chemical Name Board."

Pictured is a working model of the Mebane water plant built by Brooks Gardener.

Carol Collins smiles happily at the completion of her winning project.

JR.-SR.

Patsy Crumpler and Robert Nash reign as queen and king.

Climaxing the year's Social Calendar, the Seniors are entertained by the Juniors with a banquet in our cafeteria and a dance in the gymnasium. The theme "Southern Plantation" is carried out with decorations, costumes, and programs.

A wonderful night for both Seniors and Juniors.

PROM

Jerry West and Sandra James rest between dances on the lawn of a Southern Plantation.

George Workman, Wilson Aulbert, Buster Evans, Roman Williams, and Randy Lynch entertain with the song, "Sixteen Candles."

"Moon Mullins and the Night Raiders" provide music for the evening.
